Practical Theology

The devil wanders well, not, though, everywhere--tail'd freeze right off in higher air.

Better company than saints (insufferable if one be told) he doesn't teach by bad example.

Fact, doesn't give a crap just what you do. Salvation or the shaft, false or nearly true is up to you. Cutting it fine, he doesn't stay in a big house

but comes to yours, grabs a brew, puts up his feet and speaks

his mind straight out not crouched in symbol.

You'll find unless you lock up tight that he prefers the foreign brands in all but vice.
